

Society of St. Vincent de Paul – St. Teresa's Conference:

Over the last few months the public health restrictions have closed our churches and many other institutions. Many people have been put out of work and have come to rely more on the local charities and food banks to sustain themselves.

Through all this, the Society has managed to continue supporting those in need. This would not have been possible without the continued financial support we receive from the parishioners.

Despite the fact that it has been hard on everyone, you our supporters have managed to maintain your financial support of our operations.

We are most grateful and appreciative of your support. It allows the food bank to continue operating in the worst of times when the needs are the greatest.

On behalf of all society members and all those we help, we offer our sincere thank you.
