

Roman Catholic Archdiocese of St. John's

OFFICE OF THE ARCHBISHOP

Thursday, July 27, 2017

Dear parishioners as you know I recently accepted the recommendations of the Strategic Planning Committee of the Archdiocese. One of the recommendations is to create Pastoral Zones in the Archdiocese. The first step of this particular aspect of the plan is to begin twining parishes together under the leadership of one pastor, or administrator. The priests in the zone will then be tasked to work together to lay the foundation for the Pastoral Zone. This year I am bringing the parishes in Mount Pearl together to begin the creation of the zone for that area and eventually with the Gould's and Petty Harbour. I am bringing the parishes of St. Edward's, and St. Thomas of Villanova together, they will work with Holy Family parish in Paradise, to create the new zone in that area. St. Francis of Assisi and St. Paul's parishes will now begin working with Mary Queen of Peace parish to lay the foundation of the new zone in that area. In the future will create zones, in all areas of the Archdiocese, further appointments and changes to priestly personnel will be made as necessary.

Therefore, as Archbishop of St. John's, I wish to make the following appointments:

Fr. Doug Barrett, currently the parochial vicar (assistant pastor) of Mary Queen of the world parish, Mount Pearl, is appointed the parochial vicar of Our Lady of Angel's parish, Placentia and area, and of St. Francis Xavier parish, Long Harbour and Southern Harbour.

Fr. John Cole, currently administrator of St. Thomas of Villanova parish, CBS, will be assisting with pastoral ministry throughout the Archdiocese in supply ministry and will reside in the rectory in Portugal Cove.
